A personalized walkthrough for Abdul Hakheem · MySpace Real Estate & Consulting

Stop losing buyers to slow replies

A walkthrough of how automated lead nurturing works, start to finish, built by Think To Share.

THE PROBLEM

How many buyers have you lost because nobody replied in time?

Someone sees your ad and sends an inquiry. Someone on your team sees it later, replies, sends a brochure... then has to follow up again, and again. Three weeks pass. Nobody remembers where that conversation was left. The lead is gone, not because they weren't interested, but because the timing broke down.

The average reply takes hours, sometimes days, by then the buyer has already called someone else.

Follow-ups depend on someone remembering to do them, which means a lot of them just don't happen.

Leads who say "check back in three months" almost never get checked back on.

By the time someone follows up, the buyer has already signed with a competitor.

THE IDEA

What if the system replied instantly, every single time?

A list of contacts goes in. The AI starts the conversation, on your behalf, the moment someone shows interest. It asks about their requirements, their budget, what they're actually looking for, and qualifies them before your team ever has to step in.

01 The inquiry gets an instant WhatsApp reply

STAGE 1 OF 4

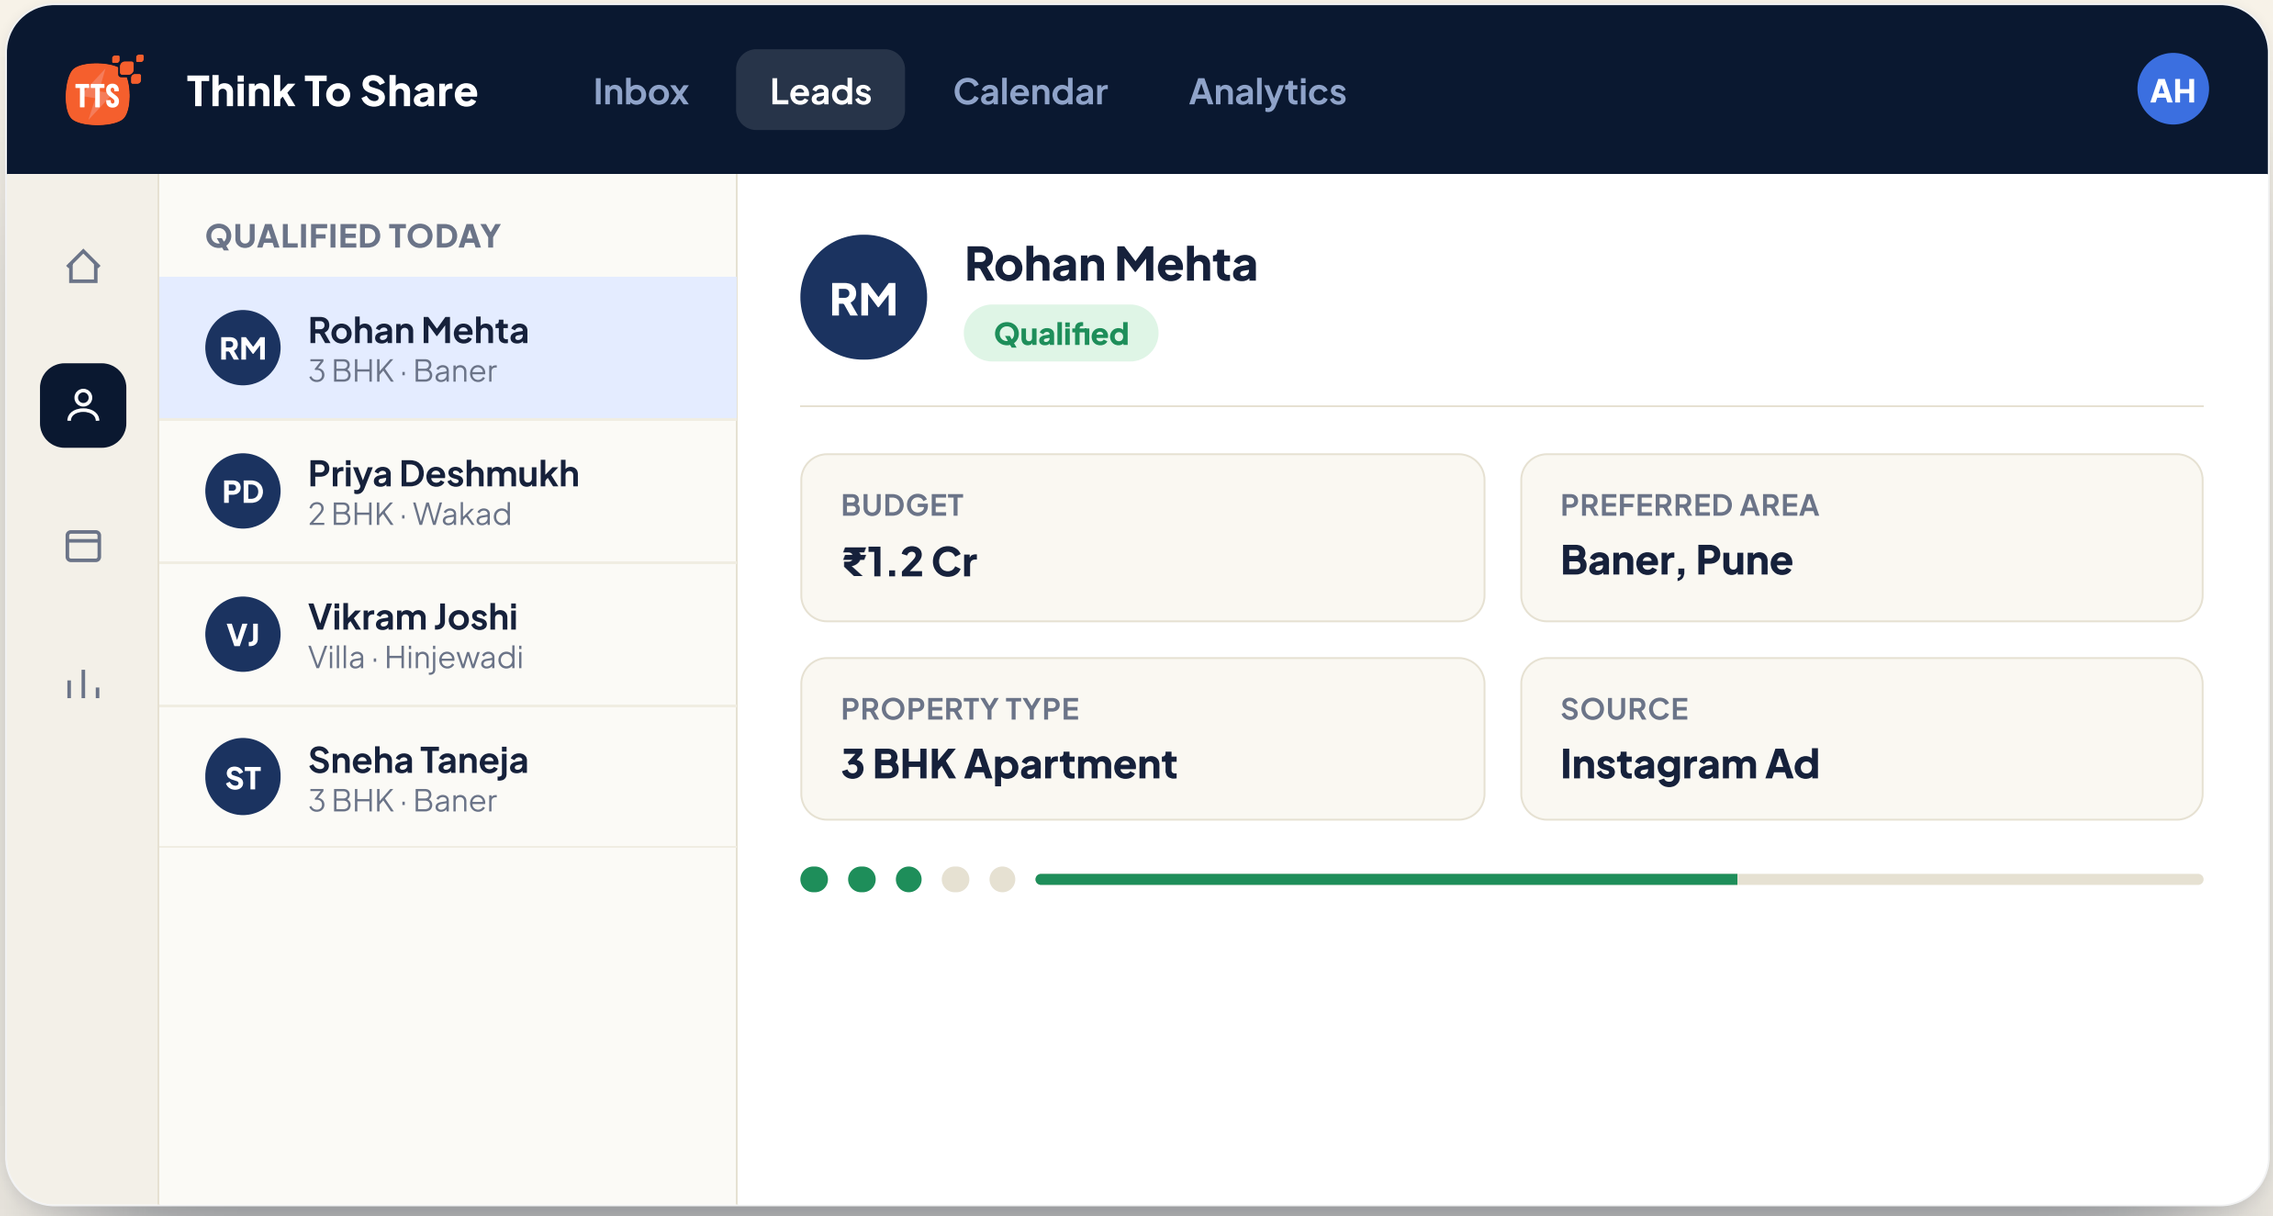

A buyer sees a MySpace Real Estate & Consulting ad and sends an inquiry. Within moments, not hours, they get a WhatsApp message back, before anyone on your team has even seen the lead.

- No missed first impressions, every inquiry gets acknowledged immediately.
- The conversation starts automatically, your team isn't chasing it.
- Works the same at 9am or 9pm, weekends included.

02 The buyer gets qualified automatically

STAGE 2 OF 4

The system asks for budget, property type and requirements, then sends the right brochure for that buyer specifically, not a generic PDF blasted to everyone.

- Captures budget, location preference and property type in the natural flow of the chat.
- Sends the matching brochure automatically, no one has to pick which one.
- Every answer syncs straight into the CRM, nothing gets typed twice.

03 The site visit books itself

STAGE 3 OF 4

The buyer picks a site visit slot right inside the chat. It lands straight in your CRM and your calendar, no back-and-forth scheduling calls, no double-booking.

- Buyer chooses a time that works for them, not a slot your team has to negotiate.
- Confirmation and reminder messages go out automatically before the visit.
- Your sales team shows up to a visit with someone already qualified, not a cold walk-in.

04 Every lead is tracked, nothing goes cold

STAGE 4 OF 4

Even after the visit, if a buyer isn't ready for another three or four months, the system keeps the conversation going with useful nudges, instead of letting the lead disappear.

- At any point, see exactly where every lead stands in the pipeline.
- Not-ready-yet buyers get nurtured automatically, not forgotten.
- Your team only steps in when there's a real conversation to have.

“

It doesn't replace the relationship.
It just removes the repetitive work around it.
