A personalized walkthrough for Cassi Lawson · Absolutely Lawson

Stop losing clients to slow replies

A walkthrough of how automated lead nurturing works, start to finish, built by Think To Share.

THE PROBLEM

How many clients have you lost because nobody replied in time?

Someone sends an inquiry about their taxes. Someone on your team sees it later, replies, asks a few questions... then has to follow up again, and again. During tax season the phone doesn't stop, outside it, inquiries sit unanswered for days. The client is gone, not because they weren't interested, but because the timing broke down.

The average reply takes hours, sometimes days, by then the client has already called another firm.

Document follow-ups depend on someone remembering to chase them, which means a lot of them just don't happen.

Demand is seasonal, everyone calls at once during tax season, then goes quiet.

By the time someone follows up, the client has already gone to another CA.

THE IDEA

What if the system replied instantly, every single time?

A list of contacts goes in. The AI starts the conversation, on your behalf, the moment someone shows interest. It asks what service they need, their timeline, what documents they have ready, and qualifies them before your team ever has to step in.

01 The inquiry gets an instant WhatsApp reply

STAGE 1 OF 4

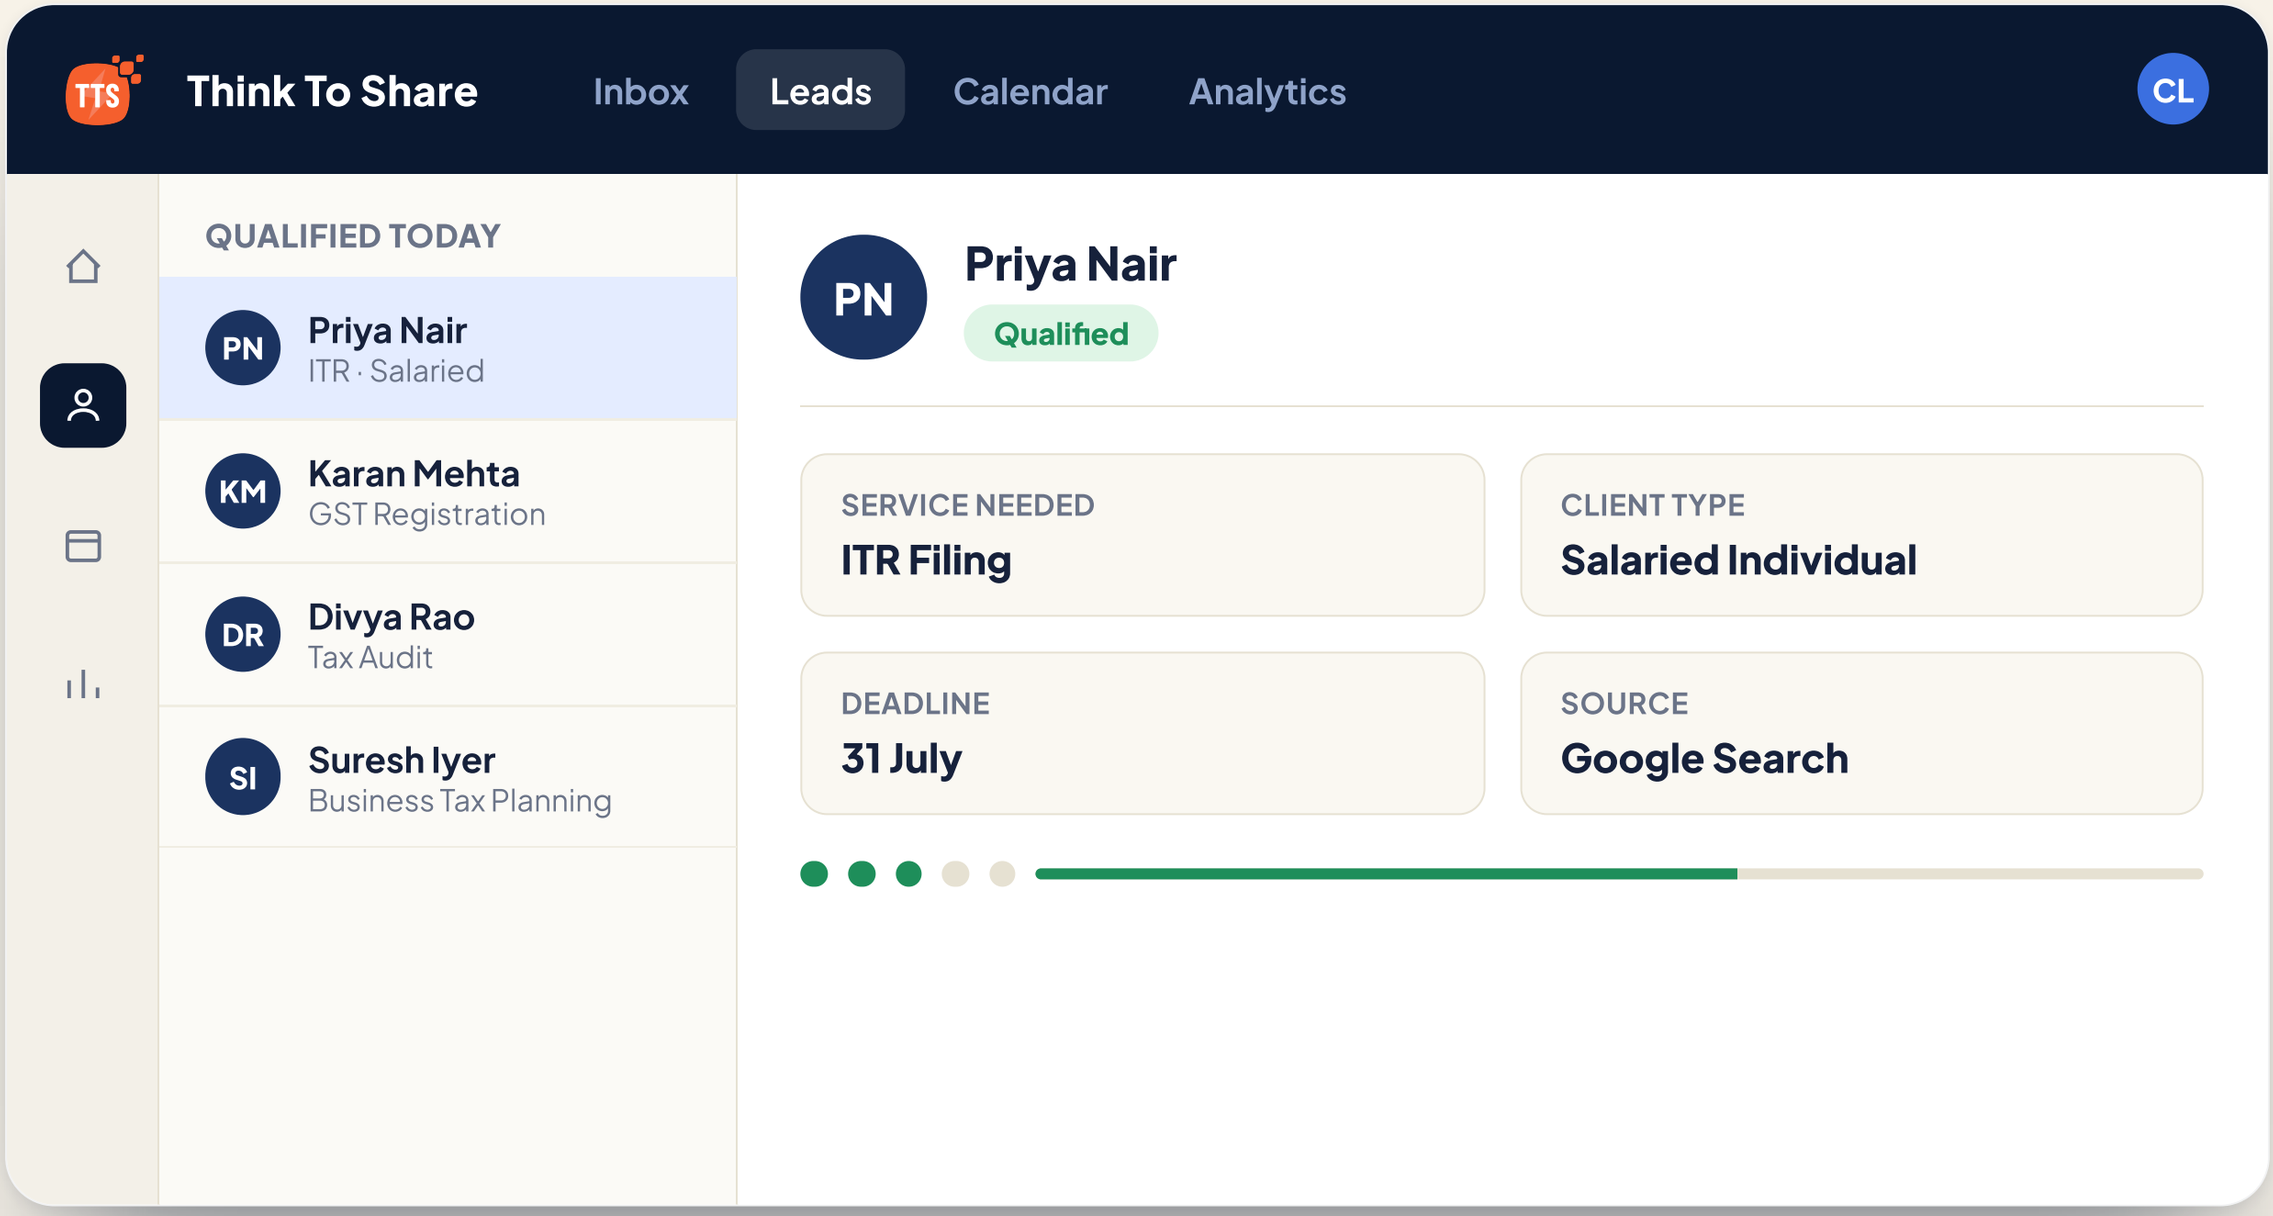

A client sends an inquiry about their taxes. Within moments, not hours, they get a WhatsApp message back, before anyone on your team has even seen it.

- No missed first impressions, every inquiry gets acknowledged immediately.
- The conversation starts automatically, your team isn't chasing it.
- Works the same at 9am or 9pm, including during the tax-season rush.

02 The client gets qualified automatically

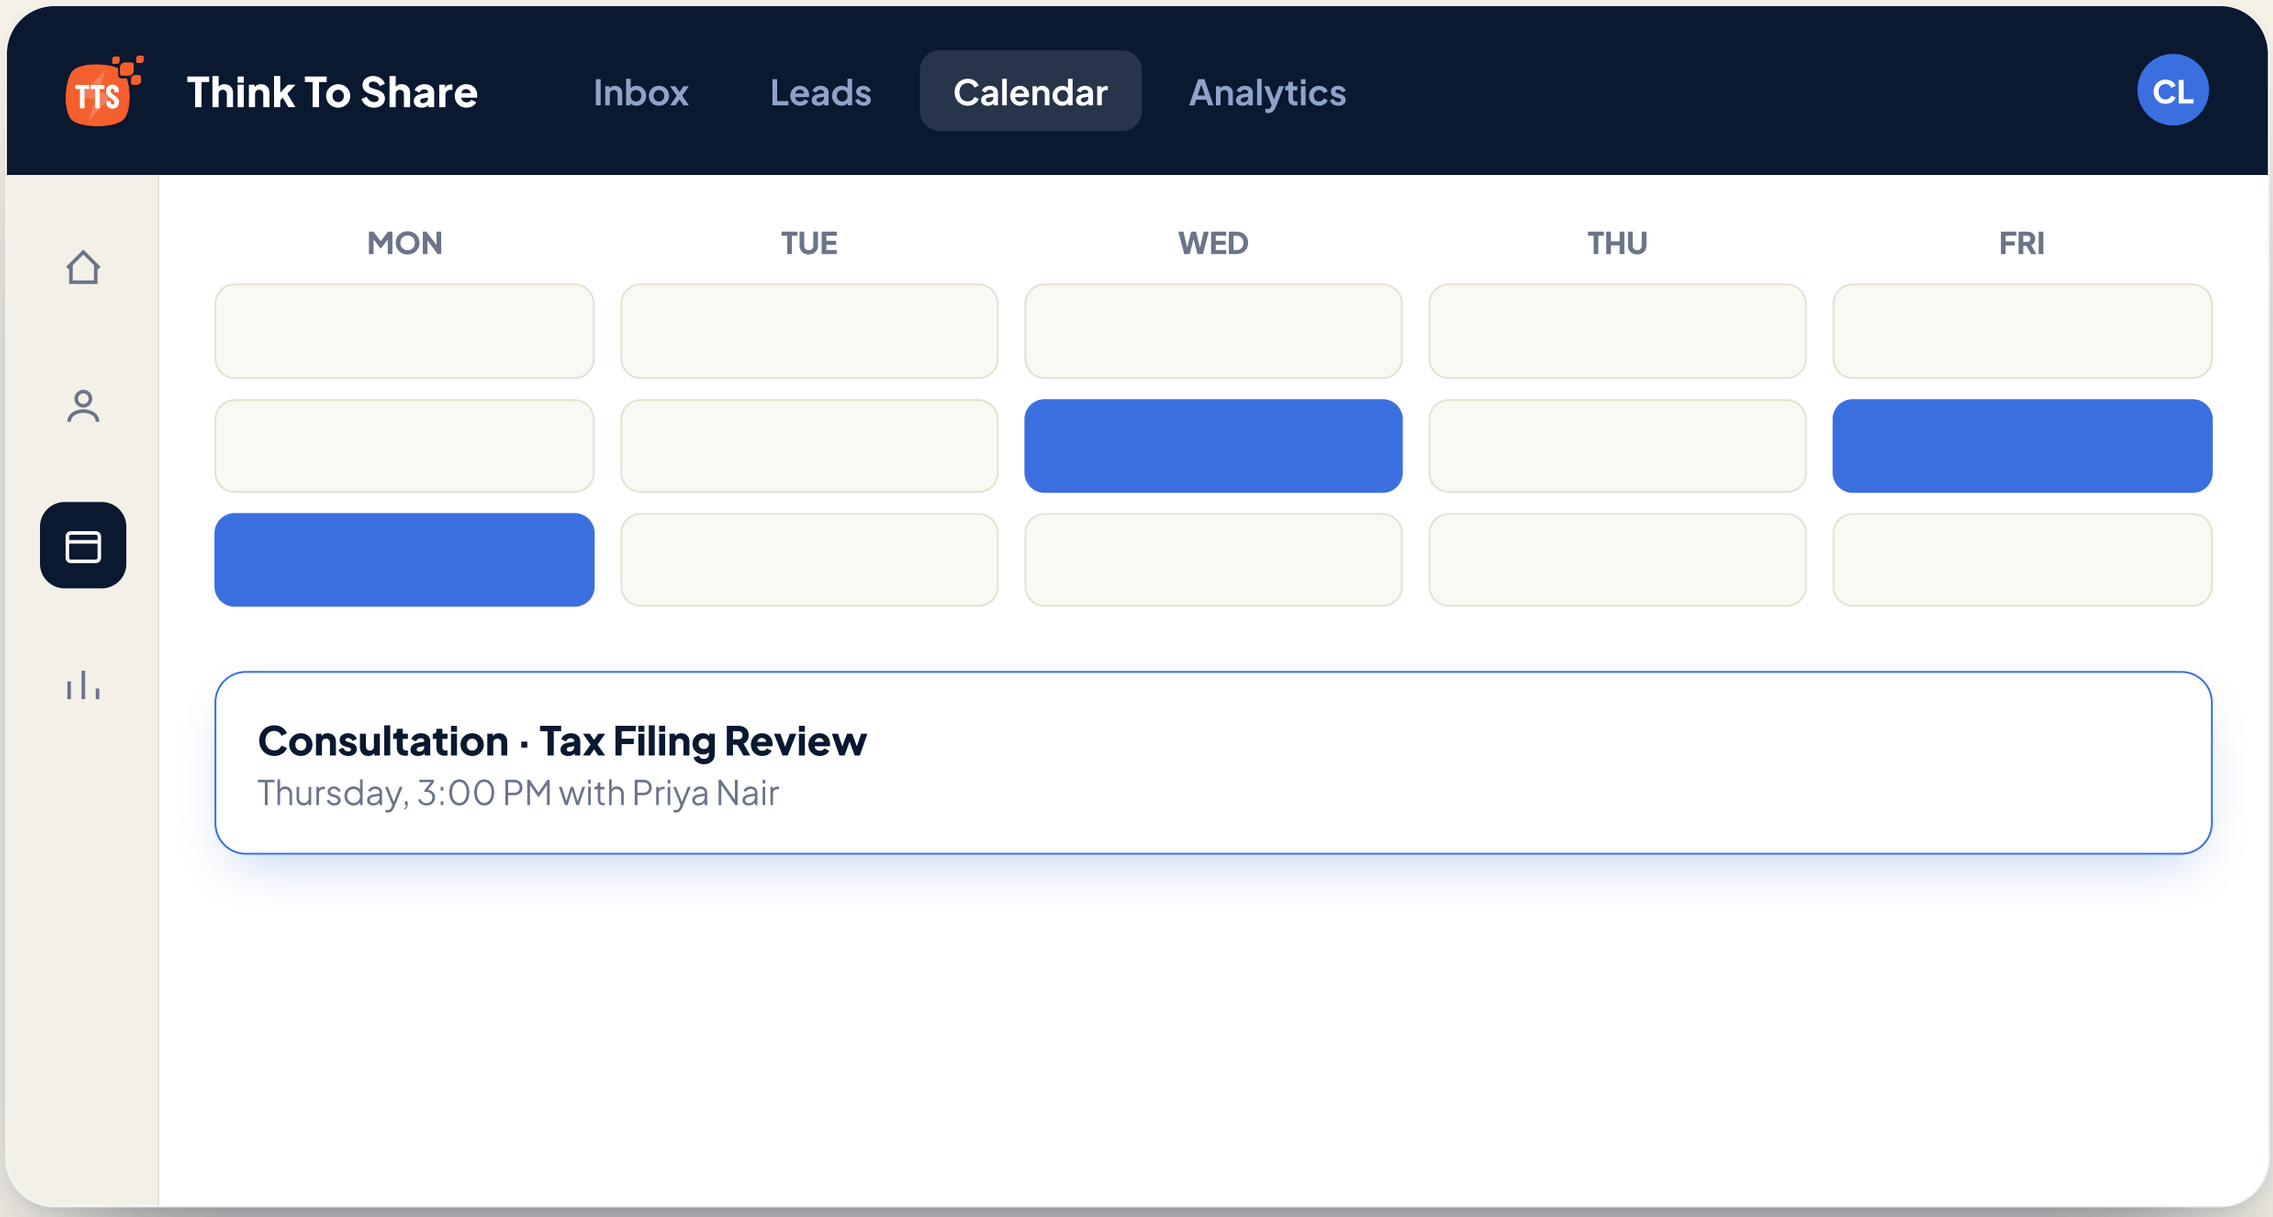

STAGE 2 OF 4

The system asks what service they need, their deadline and documents ready, then sends the right checklist for that client specifically, not a generic PDF blasted to everyone.

- Captures service needed, client type and deadline in the natural flow of the chat.
- Sends the matching document checklist automatically, no one has to pick which one.
- Every answer syncs straight into the CRM, nothing gets typed twice.

03 The consultation books itself

The client picks a consultation slot right inside the chat. It lands straight in your CRM and your calendar, no back-and-forth scheduling calls, no double-booking.

- Client chooses a time that works for them, not a slot your team has to negotiate.
- Confirmation and reminder messages go out automatically before the call.
- Your team walks into a consultation with someone already qualified, not a cold inquiry.

04 Documents don't get forgotten, even off-season

STAGE 4 OF 4

Even outside tax season, when things go quiet, the system keeps nudging clients for pending documents and sends reminders around important tax dates, instead of your team asking "did you send the document?" over and over.

- At any point, see exactly where every client stands in the pipeline.
- Document reminders go out automatically, not forgotten in someone's inbox.
- Your team only steps in when there's a real conversation to have.

“

It doesn't replace the relationship.
It just removes the repetitive work around it.
